Our Alma Mater

J. Freda Gardner Morgan '18

Ring out, O voices, joyfully
To praise our Alma Mater.
How gladly do we sing to thee,
Our dearest Alma Mater.
We praise thy standards broad and free,
Long may our flower an emblem be
Of courage high and loyalty
To thee our Alma Mater.

To thee we come, in thee we live,
Our dearest Alma Mater.
Our highest privilege to give
To thee, our Alma Mater.
May we, thy daughters, ever share
With little children everywhere,
The joy that we have learned of thee,
Our glorious Alma Mater.

National Takes a New Name

IT is quite the usual thing for graduates of the College—and occasionally even for students of the College—to change their names, but for the College to change its name! That's different! Nevertheless, the students who entered the National Kindergarten and Elementary College in September, 1929, will receive their diplomas or degrees from the National College of Education.

When the matter of changing the name of the College was discussed Miss Baker explained that the old name was too long and cumbersome for general use and that the word "kindergarten" was emphasized to such a degree that many people are not aware that the College trains teachers for the upper grades and for the nursery school. In fact, in some instances, they fail to realize that the College is anything more than a private kindergarten.

In deciding upon a new name it seemed advisable to retain the word "National" because it is used so generally by the students and alumnae as well as educators, and also the word "College" because the curriculum is more nearly that of the college than of the normal school.

WHAT NEXT!

Several names were suggested and voted upon, but National College of Education, which was the choice of the faculty and of the great majority of students, was accepted and approved by the Board of Trustees, the necessary formalities at Springfield were complied with and on March 19, 1930, the name of the National Kindergarten and Elementary College was changed to National College of Education.

As a matter of fact, a change of name is not a new experience in the life of the College, for in 1886, when it occupied the upper floor of the old Art Institute building in Chicago it was first incorporated as the Chicago Kindergarten College.

Its fame spread and students came flocking from many parts of the country; it moved to larger quarters at Twelfth and Michigan and there it became the National Kindergarten College.

And still it grew! The big red brick Gates mansion, an adjoining residence and the commodious stables were acquired; elementary teachers with kindergarten training came into demand and the College opened a demonstration school with kindergarten and the first two grades, and changed its name to National Kindergarten and Elementary College.

Then in 1926 the over-crowded south side quarters were abandoned in favor of the newly completed Harrison Hall on its own North Shore campus. The nursery school came to the fore and the demand for elementary teachers familiar with the newer methods and use of materials increased. A demonstration school was organized to include the nursery school, kindergarten and six grades. Parent Education became insistent in its demand for courses for fathers as well as mothers. And so again the name has been changed to fit changing conditions. Freed from the fetters of its unwieldy cognomen, surely there is nothing in its field of education that National may not now attempt!

Scholarships

WHO will receive a scholarship? This very important question is answered on Commencement Day. Sixteen honorary scholarships were given to students at the forty-third annual commencement, June 12, 1929. The students who were honored in this way are girls whose high scholarship attainment, outstanding ability in practice teaching, loyalty and coöperation towards their College and towards other students are recognized by faculty and students alike.

The Elizabeth Harrison scholarship and the Mrs. John N. Crouse scholarship, the gift of the Alumnae Association in memory of the two founders of the College, were awarded to Marcella Pemberton and Marjorie Preston.

The Jean Carpenter Arnold scholarship was given to Thelma Day, a sophomore in '27, who returned for her junior year and has assisted in the Nursery School of the College this year.

Virginia Davis, popular president of the Sophomores, was awarded the Eva Grace Long scholarship, established two years ago in memory of one of the alumnae and given in recognition of leadership.

The Mary Juliette Cooper Supervision scholarship, established by the College for a junior who has had teaching experience, was given to Helen Wernimont.

Virginia Dougherty, who has shown outstanding musical ability, was given the Helen Grinnell Music scholarship, in February, 1930, Verna Kumle having had this scholarship for 1929.

The Demonstration School scholarships, given in recognition of outstanding ability in teaching, were awarded to the following well-known girls: Rosalie Budinger, Georgia Durden, Zoa Favoright, Catherine Klumph, Bertha Lehman, Frances Sandell, Hildegard Stoeckley and Alice Stolz, while the Mary Crane Nursery School scholarship was awarded to Esther White.

The National Alumnae Association

ALL of you graduates—see how our Alumnae Association is growing! As indicated on the map, we now have twenty-one chapters, five of which were organized this year. Keep this map, and if you find yourself within hailing distance of any of the chapters next fall when you go out to teach, make yourself known.

If you go to far off Honolulu or to nearby Chicago there will be National girls ready to welcome you to your new teaching home and make you feel one of our big National family. You will find many splendid and worth-while activities going on and you will love the many contacts which you will make.

Of course, some of you, as you leave the College and your friends, will find yourselves in places where there are no chapters, but in many of these places there are National girls. What could be finer than to get the group together and see if you couldn't interest them in organizing a chapter.

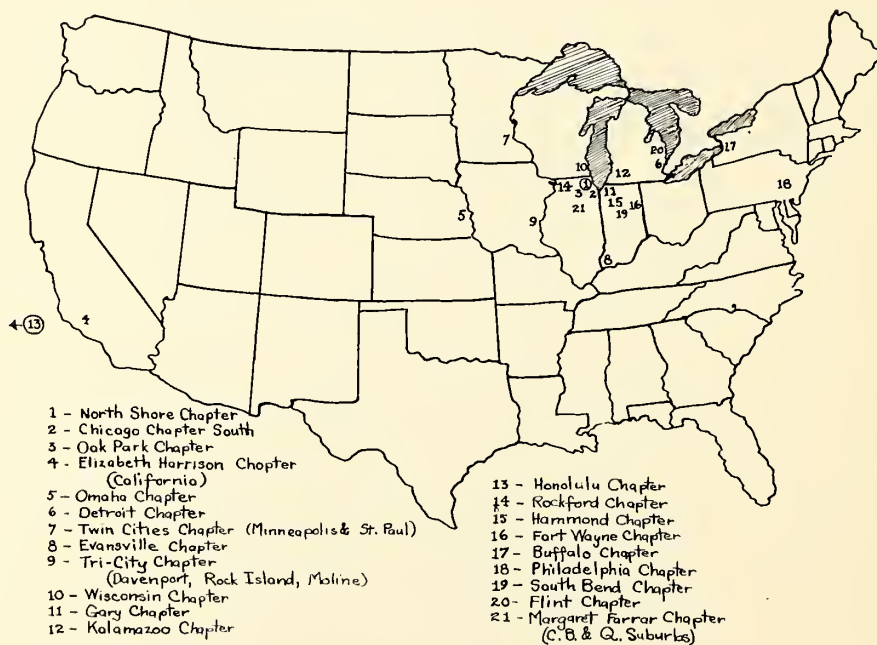

You will find there are National girls all over the country just waiting for some one to take the initiative and start things going. How they love to talk over old days and to hear the latest news of the College and Miss Baker, of the plays and festivals and the newest wrinkles in the matter of solving feeding and behavior problems. In return for your contribution along this line they can give you valuable tips on the idiosyncrasies of principals and superintendents, on places to eat and the best shops for dresses.

As you probably know, the Alumnae Association contributes toward the publication of Our Guidon, a paper which is sent to every alumna, keeping the graduates in touch with one another and with the College. It also presents two honorary scholarships each year—the Elizabeth Harrison and the Mrs. John N. Crouse. And the chapters have made splendid contributions toward the College building fund and other enterprises.

If you are located near Chicago you will enjoy the monthly luncheons held by the Alumnae Association. This year the luncheons have been held at different private clubs and have been most delightful both as to social contacts and the short programs at the close of the luncheon.

The annual dues to the Alumnae Association are $2, not a large sum but one which brings very large returns. The dues are payable through the National Alumnae Association and may be sent to the Treasurer of the Association in care of the College—or—better still, they may be paid to the treasurer of the local chapter to which you may belong next fall.

Help us cover the map with dots. If you do not locate near a chapter, write to the College for a list of the alumnae near you and organize your own chapter which will be an added factor in spreading National's name and fame, in interesting prospective students and will bring you happy comradeship and good times.

A PASSING MOMENT

*Sky blue,
Trees leafy,
Water dark,
Path shadowy!*

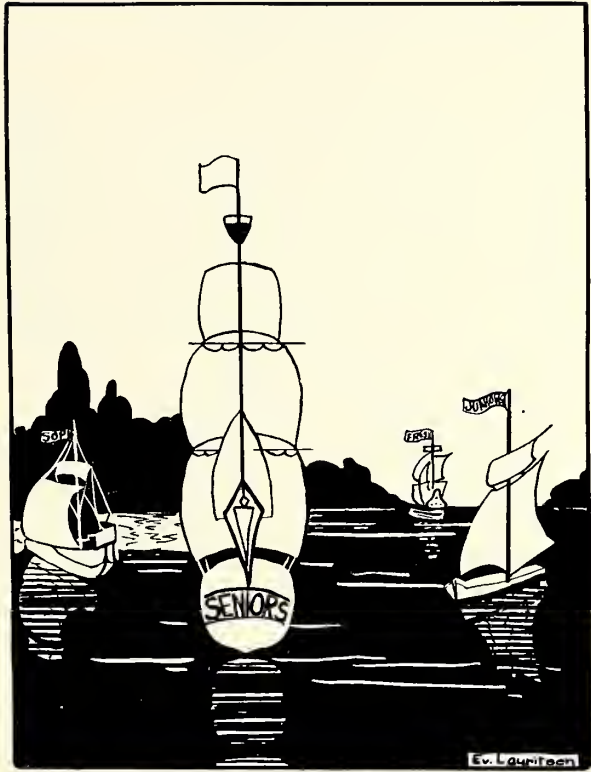

*Birds flutter,
Leaves rustle,
River flows,
Plane passes!*

*Children chatter,
Women laugh,
Men call,
Boat whistles!*

*This is all
I can recall,
Save a sense
Of peace and rest,
A dove's low cry,
A swing's shrill creak!*

Senior Class History

SENIORS of 1930! Sixty-two of us, and keeping up our reputation too. For in 1926, we entered as the largest freshman class that ever came to National and in 1930, we are leaving as the largest senior class, the largest group yet to receive degrees from dear old National.

As freshmen? Yes, certainly we were green, still we were never disheartened. We sponsored a dance, we gave an assembly program, we even made an attempt to win the song contest. We put forth our best efforts in work, and play and tried always to prove our worthiness.

Then as Sophomores? Oh my! We began to rise. On one never to be forgotten day we sang our way to fame. You've guessed it, we won the song contest. Another dance, class parties, the Children's play, actually taking part in the spring festival—all these memories we hold during our year as brave and bold sophomores.

And Juniors? Goodness, how quickly time was flying. Truly "big sisters" to the freshman class, we gave a party for them in the Gym. A children's party and how much fun freshman and junior children had. Then followed the first dance of the year, our dance at the Kenilworth Country Club. Following the senior's good example, we soon adopted the honor system. We sponsored a poem-dance recital, long to be remembered. Finally, came the Ellis-Island party which with the help of the seniors, we gave for the faculty. At graduation we were extremely glad for were not the majority of our class coming back for one more happy year together?

Seniors at last, dignified seniors and so many important things to be accomplished. Many new members came to us; girls who had been in other colleges, and girls who had until now been known as "irregulars." How happy we were to have them all. Our first aim was to get acquainted. Miss Kern, our ever-helpful class sponsor, helped us out here, in a most delightful manner, by giving a party for us one night in the alumnae room. Soon after this, we gave another "first" part, this time at the Evanston Woman's Club. A formal affair, it proved very successful. In February, just before the song contest, we had a dinner party at the College and afterwards ensued a song practice which we can never forget. However, when on February 20, Senior heads "popped" out from a most realistic dormitory and senior voices rang out in tunes most joyous, resulting in another victory, our elation knew no bounds.

Our college days over so soon, life in its joy, life in its sorrow ahead. Yet, friends may come, and friends may go, but the friendships we knew at National live on forever.

WHY DO WE LIKE EVANSTON?

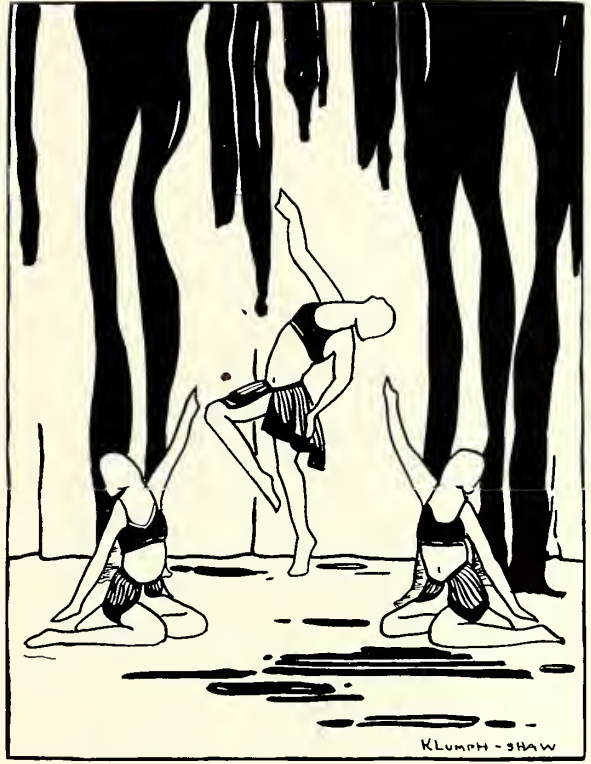

Why do we like Evanston, Evanston, Evanston
Why do we like Evanston, National is there,
I like it, you like it,
We like it, they like it,
Why do we like Evanston, National is there.

Why do we like National, National, National,
Why do we like National, our work is there,
I study, you study,
We study, they study,
Why do we like National, our work is there.

Why do we like National, National, National,
Why do we like National, good times are there,
I have fun, you have fun,
We have fun, they have fun,
Why do we like National, good times are there.

Why do we like National, National, National,
Why do we like National, friendships are there,
I have friends, you have friends,
We have friends, they have friends,
Why do we like National, friendships are there.

JUNIOR ALMA MATER

Oh, Alma Mater, dear
In thee we'll always find,
A love and loyalty that
Friendships bind;
And may we ever keep on
Striving ahead,
To seek world fame,
For the white and the red;
O, let us ever share
The knowledge gained from thee,
Offer to childhood,
A light by which to see,
The chance for life, for liberty,
The need of work and fun,
Then, Alma Mater, dear,
Your cause is won.

Betty Horsman

Junior Class History

IN 1927 the largest Freshman class in the history of National entered, green as any freshmen, but full of enthusiasm and eagerness to become a real part of the College. We came through initiation and our "getting adjusted" without any serious scars. As the festivals came along, and our experience deepened, we grew to love the College more. A successful dance, those beginnings in student teaching, and the privilege of carrying the daisy chain for Commencement—and suddenly the year was over.

How different our Sophomore beginning from that first one! Before a very few weeks had passed, we were reorganized, were deep in the problems and joys of teaching, and felt almost that the College belonged to us. Only too quickly a busy year, a happy year came again to Commencement, where twenty-eight chosen members of our class having the honor of carrying the daisy chain, a custom transferred from the freshman to the sophomore class because the granting of diplomas at the end of the second year had been discontinued.

And now we are Juniors. Yes, we admit it's hard to believe. For many of us, it is the last year at National, and the thing uppermost in our minds is, "What will we be doing this time next year?" We are endeavoring to do our best to make every class count, so that when we have our own positions we'll feel able to cope with the task before us.

In September how joyous was our greeting. How glorious to be again with girls we'd known for one or even two years. We knew this year more of what National expected of us and also what we expected to glean from her. We are better able to give the praise due our Alma Mater, we are beginning to feel her real worth. Now we are a class bound together by her spirit, by the friendships made, by faculty influence, by the eagerness of carrying on and making this year, college history.

Exams came earlier than ever, sending us into our second semester at a breath taking rate. Our Junior formal at the Shawnee Club was a dance of which we were all proud. The song contest, Betty Horsman giving us our Junior Alma Mater came soon! And then we take part in the Spring Festival, our last big annual event—which makes us realize how near upon us is graduation.

"Oh may we ever share
The knowledge gained from thee—
Offer to childhood
A light by which to see----"

We have our work—our future. May we only live up to what we've gained. Miss Markt, our history is almost complete. The memories of our life with you, with Miss Baker, with the faculty, and with the student body—these we will always cherish.

AS I WALK

I seem to hear
Nothing
Save the rythmical
Clink-clink-clink-clink
Of my feet—one after the other—
Against the hard,
Cement pavement.

I seem to see
Nothing
Save the brilliant,
Glaring, golden light
Of the sun—staring down in the stillness
Shining against the houses and
The cement pavement.

With the clinking beat in
My ears—and
The blinding light in
My head—
I go on my way—head held high in
The air.
I wonder if the passers-by
Think that I am deep in thought.

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY

NATIONAL COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

EVANSTON, ILLINOIS •

Professor: Dr. National.

Associate Professors: Evanston and Chicago.

Instructors: The classes of '29, '30, '31, '33.

THE DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY OFFERS THE FOLLOWING COURSES:

History I. Ancient History.

This course covers the Age of Innocence. It introduces the student to the various trials and tribulations of our primitive civilization such as: Psychology, Folk Dancing, The Sophomores. The course extends over a period of one year, and especial attention is paid to the splendid work of the entire community in raising the building fund for the third floor, to the social customs for the people—the significance of carrying whisk-brooms, and reversed clothing worn at a certain period of the year, and their worship of song contests.

Then comes the mid-year and a break in civilization as the seekers after education journey forth into new lands of alarm clocks and student teaching.

The values and merits of such events as: Freshman assembly; Freshman formal; and the solemnity of a first graduation are treated in great detail. One name you will always remember in ancient and modern history—Miss Weller—for the help and suggestions in promoting the welfare of our civilization.

History II. Medieval History.

A comprehensive study of the Dark Ages, the extent and influence of bigotry, and the methods of inquisition. This is a note course, and requires seventy-five pages of outside reading a week. It gives especial consideration to the tremendous—in fact, the truly phenomenal—growth, and importance of the individual and her influence on the students of History I. In this age, the individual has great privileges, such as imagining herself already measured for cap and gown. It is, from the social point of view, one of the most delightful courses which the department offers. One sad event, the Song Contest, is discussed, but then comes the Reformation and this period rises to a beautiful climax the year culminating in a brilliant Sophomore Prom and the glories and awes of a second graduation viewed through costly loops of daisy chains.

DEAR OLD NATIONAL

Some talk of old Northwestern
And some of Notre Dame
Some talk of old Chicago
And other schools of fame.
But all the schools I know about
There's none that I can tell
Can fill our hearts with happiness
Like dear old National.

Freshman Class History

AT last we boarded the Steam Ship "National," on September 13, 1929. We waited hours, it seemed, to have our passports checked. It was a marvelous opportunity to get acquainted, however, and it didn't take us long to discover the many congenial passengers already on board.

All of a sudden, we were hurried into the assembly room where the examinations to test our qualifications as sailors were much enjoyed by all!!

Imagine our embarrassment (apologies to Jo Bliss) when we were asked to dress in green, to wear pig tails, gloves, and carry eggs, etc., about, much to the delight of the other passengers. What a welcome we received!!! What worms, what whacks and what shrieks! We assure you our berths were much welcomed as we wearily entered our state rooms after that spasm.

The following days on board were filled with numerous and pleasant experiences such as a get-together for new passengers, teas in the Captain's cabin, and meetings with our first mate, Miss Kearns.

Not many days had passed before everyone on board knew and loved Marion Masterman, or rather "Enthusiasm Personified." With her initiative and leadership, we were successful in receiving special mention in one of the biggest events of our trip, The Song Contest. Neither must we forget Agnes Squire, who wrote the prize song of our group, and Julia Elvin whose original tune made a big hit.

Things happened thick and fast on our journey. The Musical Comedy, "So This Is College," written and directed by Betty Carrington, another noteworthy passenger, was a great success. The words to the songs were composed by Marion Masterman, costumes were made by Helen Walters, and our fine pianist was Lucy McRae.

The fine spirit of coöperation and fellowship among our number has made it possible for us to succeed in reaching our proposed ports. We have had no anchors to hold us back, and we are so happy that we will be more than sorry when our trip is over.

We wish to thank our adviser, Miss Kearns, for her untiring efforts and suggestions, and last but not least, the Captain of our ship, Miss Baker, who has been an inspiration to every passenger on board and who has given us courage, faith, and wisdom to sail on and on and on.

NATIONAL

(TUNE "MEMORIES")

National, National, National for us
Friends we find for all the time
To share our love and trust,
National days, glorious days
Where life gave gifts that please,
Though far we may rove
Still National we'll love
In our college day memories.

THE year 1929-1930 has been a busy and interesting year in College Council. For the first time the Council has worked under a constitution. This constitution cut down the membership, eliminating the secretaries and treasurers of the classes and presidents of the clubs. This latter group has been represented by one member elected by the presidents of the clubs.

Council was successful in sponsoring the Thanksgiving and Christmas festivals. Our Christmas festival proved the unusually fine spirit of help and earnestness alive in the College this year.

Again we carried out our traditional song contest and council again is proud of the "peppy" songs and coöperation of the student body.

Council this year was very happy to sponsor the sending of three student representatives, Hildegard Stoeckley, Marjorie Preston, and Priscilla Carino, to the International Kindergarten Union convention at Memphis, Tennessee. We were very anxious to renew this custom and hope it may be continued in future years.

Council is vitally interested in all that concerns the student body and the College. It is constantly striving to further the cause of National. Through College Council we are ever untiring in our efforts to bring to our students and faculty a more complete understanding and a deeper appreciation for each other.

THE Student Government Association is the chief organization of the dormitory, and one in which every girl is vitally interested. The enforcement of rules of the college and regulations of the Student Board, as well as the management of all social functions come under its scope.

It was the members of Student Board who welcomed the Freshmen early in the fall, and tried to help them become acquainted with each other, and with the dormitory and college, before all the "old girls" returned. It was they who initiated the Tuesday night candle light dinner; who made the "Big Sister" plans; who planned the Hallowe'en party, the formal Christmas dinner, the Mid-Year dinner, the St. Patrick party, and the other social occasions. The Social Chairman, a new office this year filled efficiently by Constance Mize, with her committee of social chairmen from each floor, and with Mrs. Clarke's help, made these the successes they were.

Other less well-known events and influences are a part of this organization, but it is the spirit of the entire group that has made Student Government operate so successfully.

THE Town Girls' Association is an organization which includes in its membership every girl living outside the dormitory and gives this group of students equal representation with the dormitory girls in all college affairs and on college council.

In September the new girls were initiated in truly blood curdling style, and that unfinished third floor did its best in treating the blind-folded and barefooted freshies right, by lending itself to sticky fly paper and hills of clammy cooked spaghetti. Can't you hear their terrified and terrifying screams?

A lovely Christmas dinner at the college with a story by Miss Baker and a jolly time in the Alumna room afterward, a tea for the town girls who entered the college in the midyear, a "splash party" at the new Y. M. C. A. and a grand bridge and style show to wind up with. These were the high lights of the Town Girls' year, and through the coöperation of every town girl we want always to further the ideals of National—both academic and social—and to keep its standards of loyalty ever high and true.

OFFICERS

Dorothy Richards . . . . .	President
Elenore Melges . . . . .	Vice-President
Viola Hartman . . . . .	Secretary
Frances Metcalf . . . . .	Treasurer
Miss Sasman . . . . .	Sponsor

THE Athletic Association aims to create and further an interest in athletics and sportsmanship. The happy and amusing memories of the camping trip held at Druce Lake last spring furnished a good beginning for many of the members. The well matched basket-ball games held during assembly periods between the Town and Dorm girls caused much excitement.

In the spring of each year the Association sponsors an athletic contest among all the floors of the dormitory. The floor having the highest number of points is presented with the silver cup. The enthusiastic beginning in February showed that again there would be close competition.

In May a dinner is held at the dormitory when the climax comes. Amid cheers and singing, and after she has withheld the news till the last minute, Miss Baker presents the coveted cup to the winning floor.

The interest of the Athletic Association this spring centers in this contest and in the plans for the annual camping trip, open only to members.

Book Club OFFICERS

Marian Leckie . . . . .	President
Helen Krause . . . . .	Vice-President
Sara Beren . . . . .	Secretary-Treasurer
Mrs Galvarro . . . . .	Sponsor

THE purpose of the Book Club is to provide inspiration for those interested in modern books and to furnish an hour for discussion of them.

Our social program was opened this year with a tea in the Alumnae Room. All the girls came in a costume representing some book. We have enjoyed the study of many interesting current books and the history of poetry up to the modern day.

One of the aims of the club is to conduct a circulating library for the use of all the girls in the school. Our surplus funds are expended for the purchase of the current books for our shelves and we have added several new volumes to our library this year.

We were happy to present to the college at an assembly program the well known children's poet and writer, Dorothy Aldis. To many who have read her poems, this meeting with one of the most delightful people we have had the pleasure of hearing, was doubly interesting.

We were sorry to lose the able sponsorship of Miss Peterson, who has been ill since Christmas, but are most grateful to Mrs. Galvarro for her help in this emergency.

We have enjoyed the Book Club and hope that in the years to follow its real enthusiasm will continue.

Dramatics Club

OFFICERS

Helen Bennett . . . . .	President
Geraldine Peterson . . . . .	Vice-President
Louise Rosenfeld . . . . .	Secretary-Treasurer
Miss Middleton . . . . .	Sponsor

THE Dramatics Club calls forth comedy, tragedy, drama, and romance. It is enough to lure anyone. Every girl who wishes may find in the Club some phase of play production that might be of interest to her, whether it be dramatization, costuming, or directing.

The talents of the various members were displayed in a pageant given during the first few weeks of school. This pageant, written by our sponsor, depicted interesting events of American History from early Colonial days up to our present life. There was ample opportunity for each girl to work along lines in which she was especially interested. It also aided the members of the club to realize and appreciate the work, talents, and possibilities of the new girls.

The Dramatics Club is comparatively young in the College, but looking over the past year's record, one can readily see growth and development in personnel, organization, and activities. We all feel and hope that the club will continue to function as an important and worthwhile part of life at National.

Orchestra

OFFICERS

Evelyn Binnewies . . . . .	President
Eloise Kinney . . . . .	Vice-President
Lela Jutton . . . . .	Secretary-Treasurer
Elizabeth Phenicie . . . . .	Librarian
Miss Tegtmeyer . . . . .	Sponsor

THE orchestra has been more highly organized this year—its second year—and has been somewhat larger. Miss Tegtmeyer, the director, has willingly given her services to their weekly meetings.

On January 17, a joint program with the Glee Club was given in assembly. The members of the organization had many good times together, going “Dutch Treat” to concerts, musical comedies, or other enjoyable places. All in all, the president and the members feel that this year was a happy one—made possible by lots of work and enough play, capable leadership, and a willing spirit throughout the group.

Glee Club

OFFICERS

Marian Shadinger . . . . .	President
Marjorie Post . . . . .	Secretary-Treasurer
Beatrice Farrington . . . . .	Librarian
Virginia Davis . . . . .	Accompanist
Mrs. Rumry . . . . .	Sponsor

THIS year—its third year—has been one of great advancement for the Glee Club. With the appointment of Mrs. Rumry as director, and a large group of new members, we had an enthusiastic beginning.

Early in the year our calendar began to fill up with both business and social engagements. Those fortunate enough to go on our trip to Lake Geneva will not soon forget the hikes, singing, riding, and jolly companionship of that week-end.

In January the Glee Club and Orchestra gave a joint assembly program. Singing Christmas carols in the halls and an appearance at a North Shore veterans hospital were new activities this year for the club.

Mrs. Rumry, Marion Shadinger, our president, and several of the other town girls held dinner meetings which combined a good deal of work and even more fun.

We wish much success and happiness to the Glee Club of next year.

Travel Club

OFFICERS

Mary Pillinger . . . . .	President
Audrey Schad . . . . .	Vice-President
Angie Nall . . . . .	Secretary
Hazel Kitchin . . . . .	Treasurer
Miss McCall . . . . .	Sponsor

THE Travel Club membership includes those who had the good fortune to travel, and those who have travel ambitions not yet realized. Through the descriptions given by the travelled members, we, too, have enjoyed trips and picked up interesting and unusual bits of information which we are sure will come in for use in our trip around the world.

This year Mrs. Winn's talk on Japan and Lillian Ilieva's on her journey to America have been the most outstanding ones in our meetings. The club sponsored an assembly in March when Dr. Converse from the University of Chicago gave us a delightful talk on his travels in Russia and his impressions of the people there.

The Club hopes that next year more girls will join the group, and have the pleasure of "traveling" with them.

International Club

OFFICERS

Priscilla Carino . . . . .	President
Siri Nordin . . . . .	Vice-President
Barbara Cronk . . . . .	Secretary
Catharine Pedley . . . . .	Secretary
Johanna Schnuch . . . . .	Treasurer
Mrs. Capron . . . . .	Sponsor

THROUGH its graduating members who go back to their respective countries, the International Club is spreading abroad the fame of National.

Anita Jauckens, last year's president, has returned to her home in Monterey, Mexico, and is teaching in a kindergarten school of that city. Vera Hunt is now teaching in her home land, Bridgetown, Barbados, British West Indies. Madeline Chen is back in China as principal of the Union Kindergarten Training School at Foochow. Alice Ling, who is now Mrs. T. K. Chen, returned home last summer in Nanking with her husband and Baby Rose. Others who are still in this country are Avelina Lorenzana and Helen Tupper. Avelina is at Boston University and will return to the Philippines next year. Helen is attending Teachers' College, Columbia, and will return to India in June.

The foreign members this year are: Lillian Ilieva and Vesela Kassabova of Bulgaria; Mrs. Lucy Aghajanian Tashey of Armenia; Mrs. Chia Yen Toong of China; Priscilla Carino of the Philippines; Siri Nordin of Sweden; Helen Przybylski of Poland; Johanna Schnuch of Germany; Florence Philpott of Canada, and Mme Dumas of France. Catherine Pedley and Mrs. R. H. Winn, who have returned from missionary work in Japan, and Joy Comstock from service in India, are included in this group, and the Club membership takes in an "American Sister" for each foreign member.

One of the aims of the club is to raise a Student Fund in order to support a foreign student at the College. For three and a half years, every dollar earned by the Club was saved for this fund.

The Club's big adventure started on May 3, 1929, when a cablegram was sent to Penka Kassabova in Bulgaria, saying: "Can sister come September, International Club pays dormitory for a year, cable College." Penka's response was full of joy and when the school was about to open her sister Vesela arrived. So warm was the welcome and friendliness of the members that she felt at home right away.

Another important aim of the Club is to spread international friendship and understanding among the nations.

"Christmas in Other Lands" was given by the members with the help of Miss Baker, Mrs. Capron, and others of the faculty. The program consisted of songs by the Jolly Fiddlers and Carolers of Merrie Old England, a typical Brittany dance and songs, Bulgarian celebration of Christmas Eve, and a Christmas Eve in Dalarne, Sweden.

This program was given in the College Assembly, and was followed by a tea in Miss Baker's Office for Honorary Members of the Club. It was repeated in Carson Pirie Scott's Children's Department, and in Wilmette Congregational Church. The proceeds of these entertainments which amounted to $125.00 was added to the Student Aid Fund.

"East meets West" was the theme of the "World Mart," a bazaar held in the College on April twenty-fourth with Polly Parritt as general Chairman. The European booths, with their colorful and attractive native products and the Oriental booths with their "Spices and gold" were joined together by the American booths of honorary members, associate members and American Sisters.

The members of the Club this year have shown much interest, coöperation, and friendship. Although it has not carried out all its plans, the Club hopes that what it has tried to do has fostered international friendship and understanding.

Mid-Year Club

OFFICERS

Hildegarde Johanson . . . . .	President
Elizabeth Hollenbach . . . . .	Secretary
Virginia Dougherty . . . . .	Treasurer
Miss Middleton . . . . .	Sponsor

ALL girls who come to the College at the beginning of the second semester are welcomed into the Mid-Year Club, a group which holds regular meetings for work and pleasure. It was they who gave the graduating Mid-Years a farewell party, and held a tea for the new Mid-Years.

Through this organization a real need is met—the need of bringing this comparatively small group of girls together, and making them feel the close friendship and loyalty that is part of National spirit. Much of the success of the Club is due to the interest and enthusiasm of its sponsor, Miss Middleton.

ACTIVITIES

The National

WE have worked, we have tried, we have laughed, we have cried, as we gathered together bits of news, snaps, and clever write-ups to make The National a true record for the students, and to repeat for them the story of a memorable year.

We owe the success of this publication to the coöperation and enthusiasm offered by many of the student body. To them we express our sincere appreciation.

The staff wishes to thank Dorothy Mayer, Marjorie Rettinger, and Ethel-Lyle MacIntyre for their steady service at the Annual's weekly pecan roll stand. Special mention is also due Rita Simon for her assistance with the literary work as well as the girls who assisted the Art Editor.

We are indeed grateful to our sponsors, Miss May Whitcomb, our Adviser, Mrs. Marguerite Taylor, Art Critic, and Miss Mabel Kearns, Business Adviser. Their taste, judgment, and cheerful untiring help have been vital factors in the preparation of this annual.

It is the sincere wish of the staff that The National of 1930 may fulfill the expectations of those eagerly awaiting its appearance.

Chaff STAFF

[illegible]

FEW of us realize the tremendous influence school spirit has on a publication such as Chaff, or that the success of the paper depends largely upon the enthusiasm and coöperation of every student.

The primary aim of Chaff is to publish interesting, vital College news, and we hope it has succeeded—yet without the joke section Chaff would not be Chaff.

We want to thank the members of the faculty for their coöperation. We feel that the "interviews" were especially enjoyed by Chaff readers—even the President of the College is said to have learned things from them.

Chaff is proud of having been able to contribute to the fund for sending the three student delegates to the I.K.U. convention this spring. This was made possible by the excellent work of Marcia Lundgren and her committee.

To Miss May Whitcomb we owe a great vote of thanks and we want to express here our appreciation for the help, advice, and encouragement she has given.

Choir

THE College Choir offers a wonderful opportunity for girls who are talented vocally. Each year it has an enrollment of about sixty members, most of them upper classmen. The girls work very earnestly in choir periods—and in extra practices when necessary—to learn the music for assemblies, plays, festivals, and the Baccalaureate and Commencement services. The results more than justify the long hours of practice and the work of the Choir receives the highest praise from faculty, students, and visitors.

The girls fully appreciate the fact that the success of the Choir is won through the splendid direction of Miss Louise St. John Westervelt, and Miss Westervelt is quite as confident that it is due to the fine spirit and coöperation of her group of girls.

This year the Choir had given the programs for the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring festivals, and is preparing the special numbers for the Baccalaureate and Commencement services. Groups of the girls were selected from Choir to sing in the International Club's "Christmas in Many Lands," and the Children's play, "Penny Lad."

The Thanksgiving Festival

AGAIN the true spirit of thankfulness and appreciation for all good gifts was expressed through the medium of giving for others, through beauty of song and pageant and through the loveliness of children's faces.

No one can forget the Thanksgiving festival at National—the students in dignified procession, each girl bearing her gift for the Mary Crane children; the brown bins growing fuller and fuller and finally overflowing; the children, big and little, carrying, pulling and pushing their gifts of fruit and vegetables—more and more until the stage seemed to overflow with the colorful array. Next came Miss Baker's story, this year the charming myth of Persephone; beautiful anthems by the choir and the rich warmth of the Thanksgiving hymns. Last of all, the graceful, colorful representation of the Autumn, the Spirit of Harvest and of Thanksgiving.

As the curtains slowly closed a deep silence, a feeling of thankfulness, of uplift, pervaded the group and the festival was over, save as it lives in our memories.

The Christmas Festival

CHRISTMAS—the time when love of the Christ Child fills hearts with a love for all children! As the girls marched in with their gayly wrapped packages, and as the bins waiting for their happy load were filled to overflowing, we all felt keenly the great joy of giving. More settlement children than ever before had their wishes fulfilled this year—the whole student body having helped in satisfying the many and varied wishes.

After Miss Baker's reading of the Christmas scripture, the inspiring nativity play of last year was given again—"There Was One Who Gave A Lamb." The lovely music from the choir blended with the beautiful sight before us of winged angels with golden trumpets heralding the wondrous tidings of the first Christmas.

As the angels disappeared, a farmer laden with his sack of grain, a wealthy man with his hoard of precious jewels and a child with his bunch of wild flowers asked the meaning of the heavenly vision. An angel told them of the birth of the Christ Child and suggested that they offer him their treasure, but no one was willing, until a shepherd boy with his little lamb appeared and eagerly offered to give his beloved pet.

The last scene—Mary kneeling beside the rude manger over which angels hovered in adoration while shepherd boy and king offered their love and their worship, seemed to lead deep into the very heart of Christmas.

As the entire assembly joined in a hymn of praise, and then left on their various ways—the Christmas spirit of peace and happiness and good will filled the hearts of all.

Penny Lad

DID anyone ever see such a dear little Penny Lad as our "Stookey" made running at every call to open the gate in the road near the poor cabin where Penny Lad or Karl lived with his blind old grandfather—(who'd believe it was Zoa?)—and the aged grandmother, (none other than Katie Klumph). The Horsefair was a big event to the whole countryside, and Karl insisted on going, even though he had to wear his grandmother's petticoat over his cotton shirt in place of trousers.

And what a fair it was! Penny Lad's playmates were there: Adolph—Gladys Cressey in a new role—always seeking something to eat; credulous Gustav, Hy Youlden, herself—eager to see the gay gypsies eat knives, sing their rollicking gypsy songs, and dance; and there was Mary Brady, with "red stockings and a little bonnet," and all her best clothes, curls in order—a darling little Selma. Annette had an increasingly difficult time as a blustering sheriff—trying to keep her hat on—while managing the crowd. The barker and the troupe of players entertained the crowds both on the stage and off with their little play "Pantaloone." Such a dainty Columbine as Louise Rosenfeld made! Katie changed from the grandmother to a gay Harlequin and danced her way into our hearts,

Georgia and Mary Katherine Gay or Helen Bennett as clowns kept everyone laughing. But the biggest attraction of all was the arrival of two lifesize horses, with their trainers. They danced and pranced and galloped, and one of them even counted—even though he did insist on having four heads.

Penny Lad watched everything and was completely happy, until Selma discovered him, and everyone joined in the ridicule over his skirt. But the little man in a petticoat held the admiration of all finally, when in his grandmother's old uniform he opened the gate for the long awaited "great gentleman." What a stately gentleman Marie Kroner made! How beneficently this admired man arranged for a life of ease for the grandmother and a horse to ride on and plenty of trousers for Penny Lad.

With two performances at Harrison Hall, one at La Grange, one at Oak Park, and two at the Goodman Theatre, the cast and staff were kept joyously busy, and hundreds of children were made happy—to say nothing of the dollars and cents we helped the Alumnae earn for that famous Third Floor!

BY TINNY MAY

Good Morning!

If I wasn't afraid of making the members of the musical comedy conceited I would give "So This Is College" five stars—but you know how Freshies are! However, I must add that the able acting of the cast, the clever dancing of the ballet, and the efficiency of the various committees would put over any production. The producers were fortunate in having such a good looking ballet whose splendid work cannot be given too much praise. May I also add that Miss Walters has made a name for herself by designing as well as making the costumes for the ballet.

The plot was simple, bringing in two clever housemothers and a group of snappy college girls. Verona, you know, is a quaint little country girl who arrives at Collegiate College causing her school-mates much amusement. She falls in love with Wesley Tucker, the awkward son of a noted lawyer.

Miss Spillane, proves to her audience, that, as an actress, she possesses both charm and talent. She reminds one of "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" in her odd little costume, and with her quaint little ways.

We know there was no mistake made when Miss Masterman was given the part of Wesley Tucker. She played her role with ease giving the audience many laughs and a chance to see how charming even a bashful over-grown boy can be when confronted with the problems of love.

Miss Sepan and Miss Bliss as housemothers, received applause loud and long from a most appreciative audience.

It took someone clever like Miss Ramsey to be able to play the ridiculous role of the dream professor.

The college girls were excellent! Lots of pep! Special mention ought to be given to Miss Hopkins, Miss Olson, and Miss Walters.

Music is splendid, in fact I heard that without the pianist, Lucy McRay, the play would have been a flop; scenery snappy. I hope you didn't miss it—so Tinny May signing off.

Senior Dance

THE Senior Dance this year, a Christmas dance, was held on December 14 in the Evanston Women's Club. Fragrant Christmas trees were used to decorate the already attractive club and these made a lovely background for the girl's colorful evening dresses. In the middle of the party, Santa Claus suddenly appeared and true to his reputation, had a present for all. Everyone seemed to get heaps of fun from them—paper hats, horns, tinker toys, and other favors. The treasurer, as well as the guests, was completely satisfied with the dance.

Junior Dance

SURELY one of the most attractive dances ever given at National was the Junior Dance on February 15 in the Shawnee Country Club. Through the courtesy of a student's father, we were able to have our dance at this beautiful private club, and all who went appreciated the privilege. The stately Gothic hall, as well as the adjoining rooms decorated in Tudor style seemed even lovelier with all the pretty evening gowns of the girls and formal black and white of the men. The music was the best, and the atmosphere most pleasant. Some regret that more didn't come, but those who went will not forget how pleasant it was not to have too large a crowd. The vote was unanimous that the Junior Dance was one of the best ever had.

Sophomore Dance

THE Sophomore dance was one of the most successful of the year. It was given, April fifth, at the Vista Del Lago in No Man's Land. The Spanish architecture of the ball room with its lovely lighting effects made a beautiful background for the girls in new spring formals and the men in black and white. The veranda leading off the ball room and looking out over the lake was lighted with large colored spot lights. The crisp beauty of the night lent itself to making the dance one of the most memorable parties of the year.

3B Play

IF the architect who planned the dormitory arranged the parlors downstairs so that one might be a stage, his efforts have been well rewarded. If he didn't, it has been used anyway. In November the genius of 3B girls had to have some outlet, so they planned a program—supposedly to make money for their floor fund, but really to show what forty-five talented girls could do when organized by a capable director such as Betty Carrington. There was not a single girl on the floor but helped in some way. The attractive costumes, the posters, the properties, the actual parts to be played, and the committee work of all kinds called for each person's efforts. A midget dance, a daring magician, a modern dance, and a one-act play made up the program, and a successfully amusing and entertaining one. With such a beginning in stunt programs it is no wonder that there have been so many good times, at the "dorm" this year.

Coffee Nan's

MEMBERS of the National Kindergarten and Elementary College faculty and several of the housemothers were placed under arrest by two of the Secret Service staff, when "Coffee Nan's" was raided. The opening of this cabaret had been well advertised, and it was common knowledge that the management, 2B Hall, were preparing only the best entertainment and refreshments. Held at 2532 Asbury Avenue, in the room that was once the Main Dining Room of Marienthal, the cabaret had an individual distinctive atmosphere, with its rich green walls, low ceiling, and sputtering candles. As the guests ate their punch and sandwiches, a program of dance, wit, and song was offered that kept the hall ringing with applause. Whether high spirits was the only ingredient of the hilarity that caused the descent of the police has not been discovered by the press, nor has the date of the trial been announced. However, the management are planning a Musical Revue to be given in April.

Faculty-Senior Dinner

MY! how thrilled and excited the Seniors were, when the little white envelopes began to come through the mail inviting them to be guests of the faculty at a dinner, March 31, at the Shawnee Country Club.

At last the day came! The dormitory Seniors, all dressed up and some place to go, walked down the stairs between the lines of under classmen, who gazed with wonder and with awe at the dignified group. One Freshie was heard to remark, "Wouldn't it be wonderful to be a Senior!!" We know that the town Seniors had equally admiring if smaller send-offs.

And the dinner; did you ever enjoy one more? The flowers and the candles—not to mention the menu! The seniors and faculty were seated at tables of eight or ten, and the color scheme of the dresses could not have been more beautifully planned if it had been arranged by an artist. One could hardly tell a faculty member from a distinguished Senior.

Miss Baker in her charming manner, acting as toastmistress, introduced members of the faculty and senior class to represent the Class, the Festival, the Demonstration School, the Annual, and the Supervision Department. Each in turn responded to her clever wit and provided entertainment for the first part of the evening—though it is said that the prospect of the ordeal ruined the dinners for several Seniors.

Afterwards the group went into the lounge, where Miss Tegtmeier gave several lovely piano selections. Miss Kennedy of the College faculty was unable to be present and one of her students Miss Virginia Bork from Northwestern University gave some clever readings.

Can the faculty give a party? "Aye," is the unanimous vote of the Seniors after one of the loveliest parties of the year,—one which will long be remembered by the girls when they are far away from National.

Queens of Elizabeth Review

"THE Queens of Elizabeth Review" will always remain one of our fondest memories of 2B. Due to the creative ability of the girls, the junior-senior review was heralded as one of the greatest successes of the year, judging from the applause and favorable comments of the audience that flocked the modernistic music store in which the queens reigned. And truly it was an ultra smart music store, the kind in which one could find any type of sheet music, records, or radios. The proprietor, Ruth Silverstien, and her able assistant, Isabelle Stookey, were most willing to please, even going so far as to have the number acted out, for their customers. Credit for the clever dancing goes to Katie Klumph who so ably coached the queens of the chorus. To Gladys Lunder goes the congratulations of everyone for overseeing the entire show. Many thanks are also due Lucy McRay the pianist. It was a memorable event, in the lives of the "Queens of Elizabeth"—one we shall never forget.

Merry Christmas Gift Shops

LIKE so many things at National, the annual Building Fund benefit given by the faculty has out-grown the one day bazaar. This year it took the role of a group of gift shops operating for four days. Interest in the shops has spread farther than the faculty, for this year the Dormitory joined in and managed a Handkerchief Shop where a handkerchief from each girl was sold almost as quickly as they could be shown to the waiting crowds. The Food Shop drew many to taste of the cakes, candies, pies, jams and other goodies. The Demonstration School Mothers under Mrs. T. A. Fitz Simmons' leadership operated this shop and its profits of almost $227 went to the Third Floor Building Fund. The balance, $976.90, was turned over to the regular Building Fund to be applied on our bond indebtedness.

Not only did Christmas Shops take some of the load off Nationals' "shoulders," but they furnished a delightful supply of Christmas presents for the students, faculty, alumnae, and friends, and made our Alumnae Room and Halls gay and busy all week. Miss Weiler was the one who directed this big faculty project and now as permanent chairman of these benefits, she is making plans already for next year's shops and looking forward toward a gay and successful week.

Rummage Sale

THE first Rummage Sale managed by the students of National was held in May of 1929, sponsored by the Student Board of the dormitory. After a brief two weeks of preparation the clothing, jewelry, books, "white elephants," and other articles beyond classification were sold from a store in downtown Evanston. Every article went—in spite of the rain. Helen Wernimont, the manager, as well as her committees, and everyone else were amazed to find that we had cleared one hundred dollars—another step toward the third floor.

Although it was begun in the dormitory, the immediate enthusiasm from both town girls and faculty made it possible for the sale to be a success, and then all were eager for it to become an annual affair.

This year's sale was under the able direction of MarScine Schouten. With an earlier start, so much was collected that it was difficult to handle it all. The sale was held in April. Two hundred and thirty-five dollars were cleared—another big success!!

Song Contest

I LIKED it—You liked it—They liked it—We all liked it.” What? The Song Contest of 1930.

That Senior Serenade—of course, we later discovered that what looked like the side of a building with bright geraniums in the window boxes was really made of paper—but that only made the voices, of all those Seniors sticking their heads out the windows, all the louder. Those handsome boys who so eagerly sang the clever songs to the waiting girls turned out to be just a few of the senior girls, but did you ever hear better singing?

Talk about quick scene shifting! Almost before the Seniors were seated, part of an Opera was staged before our eyes (just how much like an opera, we won't mention), and the Juniors gave us their clever and peppy songs.

Again a change—and here is a hotel scene, with Sophomore bellboys dancing and singing, Sophomore hotel guests singing their songs, and finally all the Sophomores joining in in their offering for the class.

And Now! Behold the Freshmen! Beginners? Didn't know what it was all about? Well, hardly, for in their scene of rehearsal for a musical show they staged one of the best organized, funniest, and most entertaining stunts of the whole contest.

When we learned that the Seniors had won, everyone was as happy and enthusiastic as the winning class themselves. Although a Senior song won the contest, many of the other songs have proved very popular. We are especially grateful to the Seniors for the song to Miss Baker, and to the Juniors for the original words and music of their “Alma Mater.”

CHILDREN'S SCHOOLS

The Children's School, Harrison Hall

OUR children's school, place of joy, is a gathering place for people from points near and far. One day an interested lady from Mexico, a quizzical teacher from China, perhaps a progressive school superintendent from an eastern school, or some interested parent, not to speak of the innumerable freshmen who haunt the rooms in their quest for knowledge—such visitors are a daily experience in the Children's School.

The Nursery School charms us, with the many things our tiniest people are doing. One child is building blocks; another working with clay; another watching a moth just out of its cocoon; a soft gray bunny frisks in his cage with deserving attention from several of the children; and they say they are going to have individual gardens soon.

In the Junior Kindergarten another group of happy children are playing store, making boats and painting them, or eagerly fixing kites to take out and fly. In the Senior Kindergarten too they have been interested in boats, but they have gone so far as to build The Mauratania, a boat large enough for all to ride in.

The Nursery School

First grade is ever so busy. From a Thanksgiving Festival of their own to a library and post office that they have built in the room, their activities have been fascinating ones. The Second Grade have been working industriously on clay modelling this year—among many other things. They have been very proud of an Indian tent they made, stained with juices, and decorated with Indian designs, and their Indian play.

We find a highly decorative and informative display of Indian and Eskimo life in the Third Grade room, and hear stories of all kinds of interests here. The fourth Grade have studied diligently life in Colonial times, and have carried on many of the home occupations, soap making, wool carding, and candle dipping. They have gathered information from stories and histories and spent much time drawing and painting their conceptions of customs and conditions in those days. They have also staged a real puppet show, called a "Consideration Play."

The Fifth and Sixth Grade, who last year studied in detail the city of Chicago, are continuing the study this year into industry, learning the history of many of the outstanding industries, and making many interesting excursions in connection with it.

Our love for children grows and our understanding of the opportunities open to a real teacher deepens as we watch them in their class-rooms, in the gymnasium, down in the cafeteria, or hard at work in the manual training shops. Character and good citizenship develop under your eyes—and happiness! Here we have found it.

A Day in the Demonstration School

AN EPIC DEDICATED TO THE SENIOR ASSISTANTS

To begin with, we admit that our discipline is lax ;
And the floors had just been given an extra coat of wax.
And every child fell down and howled about his bump
And the room was very warm and the pipes began to thump.
Then Billy's mother came to make the usual fuss
Because a neighbor child had hit him in the bus.
Stella Walty had been scheduled to measure and to weigh
And Miss McElroy rushed in—hurriedly to say
Doctors Scherger, Webb and Downing were conducting class today
And the building must be silent for adult education.
Then Miss Frances Kern walked in with a class in orientation.
And while we vainly sought to reduce the room to quiet
Mrs. Grantham made a call to discuss her darling's diet ;
And Miss Martha Fink appeared with a disapproving face
To make a diary record of the worst behavior case.
Mabel Kearns and Marguerite Taylor came to realize their dream
Of a gayer room arrangement and a brighter color scheme ;
And May Whitcomb brought in briskly a Reporter from the News
Who took a flashlight picture to increase the Boo-hoo hoos !
While the clever Doctor Farwell strove to give a survey test
The gracious Mrs. Kimball ushered in a noted guest.
Then the room director sneezed a tiny little sneeze
And Doctor Pope delivered the oft-repeated wheeze :
"The motto of this school is always Safety First,
You must hie home to your bed e'er this germ does its worst!"

But you, dear Senior, kept your poise.
You quelled the riot and stopped the noise.
You made the school safe for adult education
And calmed the class in orientation.
You seated Mrs. Kimball and the noted guest
And sharpened leads for the survey test.
You promised the mother who made a fuss
That trouble would end in the Rogers Park bus.
You told Miss Fink of the anxious face
The causes behind the behavior case.
You consoled the child who had a bump
And told Mr. Nelson the pipes mustn't thump.
You begged Kenneth Holmes to scrub off the wax.
And these, dear Senior, you know are the facts!

Clara Belle Baker

The Mary Crane Nursery School

BASKETS, baskets, where are the baskets?" called Betty Mae as she opened the Nursery School door, the morning after the "Thanksgiving offering" had arrived from the college. Later when a group of the children stood around the colorful display of fruits and vegetables and dainty packages, another child asked in an awe struck whisper, "Did they all come from the College?"

Perhaps these little incidents best typify what the College means to the children of our Mary Crane Nursery School at Hull House. The College and the students who come to them there each day mean gracious teachers to play and work with, the bounty of Thanksgiving, the joys of Christmas, and all the brighter and better things which help to obliterate the unpleasant sights and sounds of their unfortunate environment.

For the generosity of the students at National has helped make possible the equipping of our Nursery School, much like a home, where the children in an atmosphere of freedom and happiness live a wholesome normal life, of physical care, joyous play and recreation, relaxation, and rest. It seemed this ideal for these children had been realized, when one day a visitor, who had spent a portion of the morning inspecting the different activities turned to one of the instructors and said, "But didn't you say this was a school?" "Yes," replied the teacher. "Well," replied the guest, "When does it begin?"

May our zeal for these little children never wane, and may we constantly feel the touch of their little hands as they reach across the distance that separates us from them, and hear the trust and confidence they place in us when they ask, "Did all this come from the College?"

PETS

I saw a monkey at the zoo,
I wish daddy would get me a monkey.
I'd like to have an elephant too,
And a cunning little donkey.
I'd like to have some birds and fish
And a lion that would roar.
And a bear, and an elk, and a big hippo
And lots more.
But mother said
They never could live
In a house like me and you.
So every time I want to see my pets
I go right to the zoo.

Rita Elsa Simon

I'D LIKE TO BE A PIECE OF SOOT

I'd like to be a piece of soot
A comin' from a chimney,
Then I'd be all dirty black
And wouldn't care, by Jimney.

I'd float awhile and look around
And see some funny places,
And then if I was feelin' mean
I'd sit on people's faces.

It'd sure be fun to be some soot
To be all black and dirty,
Then no big folks would wash my ears
And make them red and hurty.

Just think, there wouldn't be a soul
That I would have to mind—
Yes sir, I'd like to be some soot
The dirty blackest kind.

Marion Masterman

WHY?

One day
I heard mother say
That brother
Was a "bouncing baby boy."

I can't quite see
How that can be.

'Cause
I can always bounce my ball,
But Baby will not bounce at all!

Rita Elsa Simon

WINTER WISHING

Sometimes I wish I were a bear,
So woolly and so warm;
That hides away from wintry winds
And from the icy storm.

But then I think a woolly bear
Can't ever have much fun,
'Cause when I'm bundled up real tight
It's awfully hard to run.

MR. TURKEY'S OPINION

"What dost thou think of drumsticks?"

I asked a barnyard bird.

He grinned a turkey grin, and then

He answered me this word.

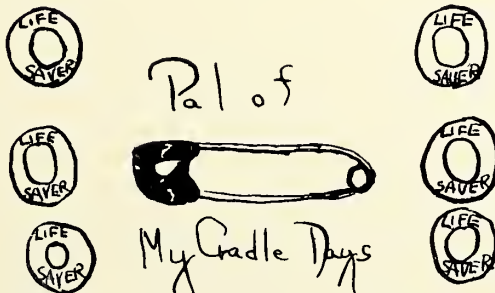

"They're good to eat, they're good to beat

But sure as I'm living

They're best to run away with

The week before Thanksgiving."

Phyllis H.—"The stone age, the bronze age, and the iron age."

Mr. Davis—"What age are we living in now?"

Phyllis H.—"The hard-boiled age."

---

Mrs. Arsenio—"I see you are late again."

Margaret Higgins—"Yes, I fell down the steps."

Mrs. Arsenio—"Well, that shouldn't have taken so long."

---

Mr. Bovbjerg—"Miss Hatch, what is the quickest way to make sawdust?"

Dorothy Hatch—"I don't know."

Mr. Bovbjerg—"Oh, yes you do, use your head."

---

J. N.—"I've skated for hours on end."

V. D.—"You have. Well you must let me give you a few lessons."

FROM THE TESTING ROOM

Question—"What's the thing for you to do when you're on your way to school and notice that you're in danger of being late?"

Answer—"Tell Forest to hurry."

Question—"What is a horse?"

Answer—"To give the milkman a ride."

Question—"How old are you?"

Answer—"Five."

Question—"When were you five?"

Answer—"On my birthday."

Question—"What is the difference between a fly and a butterfly?"

Answer—"The butterfly is bigger than the fly. Now you tell me something: What's the difference between a crab and a crab apple?"

Child (after counting 13 pennies)—"I'm not interested in pennies."

Examiner—"What are you interested in?"

Child—"In nickels, dimes, and checks."

A STRANGE INTERLUDE

TIME: 10:00 a.m. Second Semester.

PLACE: History Class.

CHARACTERS:

Mr. Davis, the instructor.

Mary Henderson, a student.

Mr. Davis—“Well, in this day and age we don’t find many martyrs. There is nothing that I’d suffer martyrdom for. What about you Miss Scott?”

SILENCE.

Mary waves her arm in the air, but lowers it suddenly.

Mr. Davis—“Yes, Miss Henderson.”

Mary—“I hardly believe I had better say what I was thinking.”

Mr. Davis—“Certainly you should, go ahead.”

Mary—“Why-er-I was just thinking of one thing you’d be a martyr for and that is the way we are supposed to do our notes.”

Mr. Davis (after a regular uproar in class)—“I think, Henderson you will go down as a woman in history in the annals of Chaff.

---

Dr. Downing (explaining that acquired characteristics can’t be inherited)—“No matter if you cut the tail off of every chicken in the flock they are always born with tails, and the same applies in the case of Chinese women.”

HOW CAN SHE?

The criticism is made that college students do not study enough. If one would stop to consider the time a student has to study he would be less hasty to criticize. Let us look at a student's program at National. Nine months, 30 days each = 270 days. The average student goes cadeting and attends classes about 8 hours a day, or in nine months 60 days.

She rides the "L," street car or walks at least an hour to her cadeting school, making a total of  $7\frac{1}{2}$  days.

The average student sleeps eight hours a day (outside of classes), or one-third of a day for 270 days or 90 days.

Supposing she is religious and goes to church 3 hours each Sunday. There are 36 Sundays in nine months, and  $\frac{3}{24} \times 36$  is equal to 4 days.

Assume she has a date once a week, and spends four hours in this form of recreation. This consumes 6 days.

There is usually a show every week, or about 4 hours a day for 36 days or 6 days.

It takes about 15 minutes to walk to Harrison Hall, four times a day, makes a total of five hours a week, or  $7\frac{1}{2}$  days.

Meals take about 3 hours a day (including sandwiches and drinks at Andy's after school), or 33 days in the whole year.

Registration takes two days each semester or four days.

She spends two hours a week at assemblies or a total of 3 days.

At least 2 hours a week are set aside to write letters to the home folks, or 3 days.

Vacations, including Thanksgiving, Christmas, Birthdays, and snow storms about 34 days a year.

Then she spends at least 6 hours a week talking in other girl's rooms, dancing to victrola music or waiting for a tub, a total of 8 days.

Last but not least, 3 hours a week are spent in washing hose, pressing or waiting for the iron.

	Days
Class and cadeting, $\frac{8}{24} \times 180$ .....	60
Riding on the "L's" $\frac{1}{24} \times 180$ .....	$7\frac{1}{2}$
Sleep, $\frac{8}{24} \times 270$ .....	90
Church, $\frac{3}{24} \times 36$ .....	4
Dates, $\frac{4}{24} \times 36$ .....	6
Shows, $\frac{4}{24} \times 36$ .....	6
Walking to Classes, $\frac{1}{24} \times 180$ .....	$7\frac{1}{2}$
Meals, $\frac{3}{24} \times 270$ .....	33
Registration .....	4
Assembly, $\frac{2}{24} \times 36$ .....	3
Vacations .....	34
Letters, $\frac{2}{24} \times 36$ .....	3
Talking, $\frac{6}{24} \times 36$ .....	8
Upkeep of Clothes, $\frac{3}{24} \times 36$ .....	3
TOTAL .....	270

270 minus 270 equals 0 times to study. What time can the college student study? Figures can't lie.
